you don't teach young people anything by leaving them in someone elses home waiting for someone who isn't there. so may wait for a couple days. these uppity teens, those who have a home, know the laws, may be very vehement in getting another man/woman/childs butt beat & punished.

don't leave your friends/family stranded in a home that isn't being paid for or that you have been given an eviction notice for & moved. everytime you as owner/landlord of your own home, find a legal case against your relative/friend don't send legal aide messages through all the rowdy kids in town. teenage hurts or slights; difficult to survive, the hurt feelings without them with you & feel neglected. that isn't cool, because you have 10 seconds to get out of there once an eviction by is issued. people come over there & at the very least tell you have to leave; next they may throw you out bodily or take you to jail for trespassing, b&e, label you an attitude problem & continuously harass you with the 'new' high rent at 30-40$ a day.

if that scenario happens because of someone leaving you abandoned in a home they've been evicted from; may face those charges of assault, abandonment by proxy.

theater/command. The stealth speakers and in house communication system takes a lot of wiring that is easier done before you have furniture. Far as furniture, if I have a kicking surround sound then I can use bean bag chairs, cinder blocks and 2x8's, and old industrial wire spools. Comfort and style can come months or a year down the road when your not reeling from the down payment and those inevitable fix up costs.

RENT OUT every spare room to terminally ill patients . . . you'll NEVER have that house repossessed.
