LINDSAY HAIR

Why use a designer?

An interior designer brings an element of value to your project. We are trained to look at your home, not only from an architectural and aesthetic perspective, but from a functional and budget point of view.

We can advise on the layout depending on how you will use the space and we can help you allocate the appropriate cost to the respective items in your home. With knowledge of the marketplace, we can truly give a custom interior indicative of the client's vision and preferences. Ultimately, my goal is to not only bring your dream home to fruition, but to make the process as informed and seamless as possible.

Why shop the trade?

Shopping the trade is like having a personal chef or a trainer: everything presented is tailored to your taste and the needs of your home. Trade items often allow for more customization in terms of size and finish and the end goal is that your vision comes to fruition and you're not restricted by the current trends of the retail marketplace.

What is your most valued design tip?

My love of art history often encourages a traditional approach to the architecture. I like to then bring in the personality of the client and the location with the decorative furnishings which can often bring an unexpected twist to the overall design. Evoking several styles within a space, without being too traditional or too modern, allows for a timeless interior.

Who is your design icon and why?

Whenever I am in London, I always visit the Sir John Soane Townhouse. The architectural details, the collection of art, the ingenious domed breakfast room ... all serve to inspire, whether you take a traditional or modern approach to design.

If you were a piece of furniture, what would you be and why?

Anything Adnet! Simplistic lines, strong silhouettes, black and gold finishes ... chic sophistication that is timeless!

What is your ideal getaway/escape?

Whenever I have a free moment, I head to the coast. I love the Always take the time to develop a cohesive plan, rather than design and purchase on impulse. Interior design has a ripple effect and decisions are interconnected, so while it may add a few weeks to the overall timeframe, it will ultimately make the process more streamlined and cost efficient.

What makes your style unique?

charm of Charleston, the French influence of St. Barths and the exotic, yet comfortable surroundings of Macakizi on the Turkish coast.

Name three things you cannot live without:

Laughing, a great Golden Retriever and my passport!
